

Thoughts from Pastor Paola...

*Search me, God, and know my heart;
test me and know my anxious thoughts.
See if there is any offensive way in me,
and lead me in the way everlasting. -Psalm 139:23-24*

As we enter 2026, considering the darkness in this world, everybody is wondering what next year holds. What will the economy do? How will our country deal with all the problems we are facing? We are all wondering what our lives, our health, and our family will be like. Many of us had a rough 2025, and our hearts are filled with anxiety and fear for the future.

Our anxieties and fears can easily get the best of us and steal our lives away.

One way to deal with that is to shun away from reality. We can try to stay away from the news, from people who cause us anxiety, and retreat into a rose-colored little world. I think sometimes it is necessary to protect ourselves from too much news or constant negativity. It is important to take time away. Nevertheless, none of this will actually remove the causes of fear from our lives.

There is another way, a better way to deal with our anxieties. It is the way we find in the Psalms. The psalmist lifts his/her anxieties to God, embraces them, names them, and recognizes the causes. In so doing, he remains firm in God's love, centered in His power, presence, and guidance. God is present in the dark places. He is present in the Garden of Gethsemane and on the cross. When we live in the divine center within us where God abides, we can find the strength we need in dealing with our fears.

New dark things will happen and happen again, but we can always return to that divine center, to the inner light within, where God holds us. I found it helpful to pick a sentence like Peace be still, or The Lord is my Shepherd when dark comes over me. I repeat that sentence until I can go back to the divine center within me.

The invitation for you and me in this New Year, no matter what is happening in the world and our lives, is to embrace our fears, give them to God, and go back to the place where God is holding us and keep us safe.

And I know Salem will be one of your divine centers. Here, you will be surrounded by a spiritual family that will sustain you in love and carry you in prayer, reminding you we are not alone.

New Year Blessings,
Pastor Paola

Hadfield School Outreach

Thank you all for keeping an eye on the student snack basket and making sure it is filled. This project started about three years ago when we became aware of the school's need for snacks. Also, for the past three years we have used grant money from the Wisconsin United Methodist Foundation to help supply Hadfield School with other student and classroom needs. With our last grant money for the school, we purchased 20 pairs of socks, 18 pair of waterproof gloves/mittens, 4 pair of winter boots and 36 classroom items from the wish list of the special education teachers.

We are so grateful to the Wisconsin United Methodist Foundation for partnering with us in support of our neighborhood school.

A special thanks also goes to Kermit Bohning who encouraged the start-up of the project and helped the outreach team on this journey.

Our grant money has come to an end, but our support for Hadfield has not. Hadfield School really appreciates those snacks for hungry kids.

News and Thank You's

Holiday greetings from the Board of Trustees

The exterior light above the east entrance door to the Narthex has been replaced and does a very nice job in lighting the door and entrance.

A big thanks to Jim Seeger for taking care of the light installation as well as diagnosing the door opener and resolving those issues.

The building heating system was again the focus this month. We had TEK Mechanical come in for a system review. The system was not operating very well and the technician found that the filter screens were plugged. He flushed the system which cleans the screens, they were plugged with contaminate from the water source. We identified an annual service need which will be addressed going forward, Thanks to Kermit Bohning for his assistance.

Now to the roof leakage issue. A big thanks to David Pauly for being the roof monitor. Dave has addressed ice issues which were blocking the roof drains resulting in standing water and leakage into the Narthex. Dave then took it to the next level, as a preventative measure Dave has installed heat tape into the roof drains, which will help, thank you David Pauly. Thanks to Caryn Adair for being Dave's support person making sure the leakage buckets were emptied eliminating the potential of a mess.

Respectively submitted,
Jeff Seeboth
